

SCREENING

WHEN MEDICINE GOT IT WRONG

Family activism rocks the halls of psychiatry

MENTAL HEALTH AWARENESS MONTH

In observance of Mental Health Awareness Month, NAMI Guadalupe County and the Seguin Public Library present When Medicine Got It Wrong.

This film by Katie Cadigan and Laura Murray tells the groundbreaking story of how a group of parents in the 1970's rebelled against the prevalent belief that mental illness was caused by bad parenting.

Their activism rocked the halls of psychiatry and launched one of the nation's fastest growing grassroots movements that challenged medicine, policy-making and American culture at large.

Monday, May 20, 2019
6:30 pm
Community Meeting Room
Seguin Public Library

Introduction by Barbara Vinson
NAMI Guadalupe County President

Program is free and open to the public.

