Happy holidays from NAMI Texas!

Dear Jane,

As we approach 2021, we’re reaching out to share our gratitude for all your support during this challenging year. We have been able to accomplish a great deal, and without your support, that would not have been possible.

Below are a few videos we made to express our gratitude, highlight our impact, and provide holiday giving ideas. Enjoy!

Elise Banks encourages you to share the Gift of Hope with your loved ones this holiday season!

Greg Hansch shares an end-of-year message and asks you to consider donating to NAMI Texas!

Anthony Moore offers his story in the latest installment of our #MyStory campaign!

Despite the difficulties posed by COVID-19 this year, NAMI Texas has impacted more than 4,000 lives through online programming.
The need for our services is expected to increase next year as more individuals and families grapple with the mental health impacts of COVID-19. We need to make available more programs like our new Family Support Group for Parents to meet the rising demand for family/peer based mental health services.

Donating to NAMI Texas helps individuals and families across the state of Texas access needed services.

Please help us reach our goal of end-of-year fundraising campaign goal of $10,000.

Thank you so much for all of your ongoing support. NAMI Texas wishes you a safe, healthy, and happy holiday season.

Warmly,

Greg Hansch
Executive Director
